HERRICK UNITES THE PARTY.

EFFECT OF HIS NOMINATION ON THE STATE DEMOCRACY.

It Has United the Warring Factions Everywhere Except in Troy-Another Ohio Herrick, a Democrat, Sends Congratulations-C.F. Murphy One of the Callers.

ALBANY, Sept. 23 .- That the Democracy of the entire State, with the exception of the city of Troy, has been united by Justice Herrick's nomination for Governor is the opinion of Democratic leaders who have been in Albany since the close of the Democratic State convention in Saratoga on Wednesday. It is expected that Mayor Hogan of Troy, who disputes the leadership in that city of ex-Senator Edward Murphy, Jr., will coalesce with the Republicans this fall on condition that the Republicans indorse him next year as an independent Democratic candidate for

The nomination of Justice Herrick for Governor has worked a miracle in Demo-cratic politics in Albany city and county, and about the only political leader here that Justice Herrick's nomination did not please was William Barnes, Jr., the local Republican boss and chairman of the executive committee of the Republican State committee. It is predicted that the 7,000 plurality this county gave Odell in 1903 vill be reduced this year to from 1,800 to 2.500. Heretofore the county, on a straight party division, has been about 1,500 Republican and the city about 1,000 Democratic, but factional fights in the Democratic party have enabled the Republicans to carry the city as well as the county in recent years by a substantial plurality.

State Committeeman P. E. McCabe, who for years has fought Justice Herrick and his friends here in the Democratic party, had a long talk with Justice Herrick to-day, and afterward announced that now all was harmony and that Herrick's friends were his friends and his friends were Her-were his friends and his friends were Herrick's friends. As a matter of fact, the adherents of the McCabe and anti-McCabe factions heaved a sigh of relief when Justice Herrick was nominated for Governor, realizing that they could now act in harmony without loss of pride or dignity. William Barnes, Jr., frequently has said that this State naturally was Democratic on a straight party vote, and that all the Republicans had to do was to aid in Democratic dissensions and factional squabbles to continue in political control of the State. Edward M. Shepard stopped over in Albany to-day on his way from his summer home on Lake George to New York city, and had a chat with Justice Herrick. Mr. Shepard has a high regard for Justice Herrick, both as a jurist and as a man of strict Shepard has a high regard to studie Her-rick, both as a jurist and as a man of strict integrity. He told Justice Herrick that his services were at the command of the Democratic party in this campaign. Tammany Chieftain Charles F. Murphy was another of Justice Herrick's callers to-group of substantial Democrats had a half hour's talk with Justice Herrick, and a record Democratic plurality below The Bronx was predicted for this fall.

Justice Herrick and Mr. Murphy have been friends for some time, dining occasionally together in New York city. Justice Herrick commended Tammany Chieftain Murphy's determination to elevate such a clean, able man as Victor J. Dowling to the Supreme Court bench.

It developed to-day that Justice Herrick's first surname is not Donald or Daniel,

Cady is written and pro-nounced as a hyphenated word thus: D-Cady, Telegrams and letters of congratulation continue to pour in upon Justice Herrick, One of these letters is from J. F. Herrick of Cleveland, Ohio, and reads as follows:

Congratulations; may you make a better Governor of New York than Ohio has. Good for the Herricks. I am the only Democratic Herrick in Ohio, except my son. I served as a Democrat in the Ohio Senate. Please accept my heartiest good wishes for yourself and family, and success at the polls.

WOODRUFF TAKES COMMAND. turns to Brooklyn Unruffled by Hi Throw-Down at Saratoga.

Timothy L. Woodruff yesterday afternoon paid his first visit to Republican headquarters in Brooklyn since the Saratoga convention. Apparently he was entirely unruffled over the high handed and trapdoor methods employed by Governor-Chairman Odell in crushing his political aspirations. He announced his acceptance of the chairmanship of the finance committee, the most important post in the campaign, to which he was chosen by the executive committeemen on Wednesday, and his determination to put up the very best fight possible for the State as well as for the national ticket.

Mr. Woodruff had not been seated at his desk more than a few minutes when the Assembly district leaders began to troop Assembly district leaders began to troop in and deluge him with complaints about Odell's interference in the selection of some of the Congressional and Senatorial candidates. While expressing his entire approval of the Congress and Senate tickets nominated, Mr. Woodruff urged the district leaders to suppress the factional feeling and take off their coats and work for Higgins with the same energy as they would have done if Woodruff were the candidate.

From now on until the close of the polls on election night Mr. Woodruff will remain in Brooklyn to direct the campaign. He in Brooklyn to direct the campaign. He is planning several big rallies, two to be held at the Claremont Avenue Rink and two at Prospect Hall, but the dates will not be fixed until next week.

The six Republican Assemblymen who were elected last year were renominated, with the exception of Frank H. Cothren in the Tenth district. Mr. Cotton, who was chosen in the Fourth district, has already served three terms at Albany. Mr. Remen got a renomination in the Eighteenth district in spite of considerable corposition. sch got a renomination in the Eighteenth district in spite of considerable opposition, due to his authorship of the Gas bill vetoed by Gov. Odell last session. The nominees without exception are in harmony with Mr. Woodruff and the county organization.

GET RID OF ODELLISM.

Higgins Advised to Have Another Man as Chairman of State Committee

ALBANY, Sept. 23.-Lieut.-Gov. Higgins was in Albany to-day. He had many talks with personal and political friends. Prominent Republicans about the capital are much perturbed at the Republican situation in the State. They insist that Mr. Higgins, as the Republican candidate for Governor can control twenty-four of the thirty-seven Republican State committeemen in view of his position as the standard bearer of the party, and that he should take steps to get from under the blight of Odellism by causing the State committee to convene and supplant Gov.

Odell as the chairman of the committee. They urge that a candidate for Governor is entitled to have a chairman of the State committee of his own selection, on the same principle that permits a presidential nominee to control the selection of the chairman of the national committee of the party. These Republican officials believe that Mr. Higgins should have his campaign manager, N. V. V. Franchot of Olean, elected as chairman of the Republican State committee to conduct his campaign this fall.

CHANGES IN THE CONGRESSMEN. Adler Has a Chance to Beat Goldfogle -Olcott May Win in the Fifteenth.

The Tammany Congress conventions will be held on Oct. 3; the Republican Congress conventions on Oct. 4. There will be few changes on either side, but in one or two districts there will be warm fights. In the Eighth Congress district Timothy D. Sullivan will run again, despite the reports that he does not want to go back to Washington. The Republicans have not yet selected the candidate they will put up against Big Tim, but he will have to be a man of pluck and confidence. At the last election Sullivan beat Montague Lessler by a majority of more than 13,000 votes. Henry M. Goldfogle, the Democratic Representative of the Ninth Congress district, is to have a renomination. His Republican opponent will be Charles S. Adler. In the last election Adler was beaten by only a small majority. He is counting this year on the support of the hundreds of pushcart pediers who live in the district and who are dissatisfied with the Tammany administration for driving them off the streets and confining them in markets. With the aid of these votes Mr. Adler thinks he has a good chance of carrying the dishe has a good chance of carrying the district.

This district and the Fifteenth are the only two which conservative minded Republicans expect to be able to carry in November. W. H. Douglas, the Republican member from the Fifteenth, will not be renominated. He was badly beaten at the primaries, and it has been decided by the regular organization to nominate in his place J. Van Vechten Olcott.

Tammany has decided to nominate Charles A. Towne as candidate for Congress from the Fourteenth district. The present representative is Ira £. Rider. At the beginning of the year, after Tammany's victory at the municipal election, Leader Murphy offered Mr. Rider a lucrative place in the city government if he would resign to provide a place in Congress for Mr. Towne. Rider refused and the probability is that at the end of the year he will be out of a job.

William Sulzer of the Tenth district, William R. Hearst of the Eleventh, W. Bourke Cockran of the Twelfth and J. A. Goulden of the Eighteenth will be renominated. Jacob Ruppert, the Democratic member from the Sixteenth, it is understood, will not get a renomination either. Complaint has been made that he has not interested himself in the affairs of his district as energetically as some of his constituents have wished. There is a movement afoot to put in his place Stewart M. Bryce.

THE OTHER HERRICK IN TOWN. Can't Understand How One of the Family

Got Into the Opposition Camp. Gov. Myron T. Herrick of Ohio, who is a relative of D. Cady Herrick, the Democratic nominee for Governor of this State, was in town yesterday.

"I hold nothing against Judge Herrick," said he, "but I can't understand how a Herrick ever got to be a Democrat." Regarding the political situation in Ohio, Gov. Herrick said: "I feel like answering the question about that in the words of a down country Republican in Ohio who was asked about the outlook in his district. He said: 'We've got the district gathered like an old fashioned Methodist experience meeting, and the Democrats stand as much chance to get in as the Evil One would stand if he tried to carry off. One would stand if he tried to carry off the experience meeting Bible."

"Seriously, nothing that can now be foreseen can prevent a big Republican victory in Ohio."

PLAN OF SEACOAST DEFENCE.

PROPOSED UTILIZATION OF THE STATE'S HEAVY ARTILLERY.

The General Staff's Plan for Preparing the Militia for the Duties of the Coast Artillery in Time of War-The 13th Regiment May Be Assigned to Forts.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Assistant Secretary of War Oliver to-day sent to Gov. Odell of New York and to the Governors of a number of other States an extract from the report of the General Staff of the Army recommending the adoption of certain measures which will give the United States a "second line of defence" of its seaboard cities and its coast by preparing the heavy artillery of the organized militia in time of peace for the duties of coast artillery in time of war. The initiative, as Gen. Oliver points out in his letter to Gov. Odell, rests with the State authorities alone, and a request for cooperation on the part of the War Department to put the plan into practical operation will, he says, receive favorable considera-

The latter quotes the recommendations of the Artillery Board that "heavy artillery in the organized militia be confined to cities in the near vicinity of coast fortifications; that it be organized as a corps similar to that of the Artillery Corps of the United States Army; that it be instructed in the use and drill of the smaller calibres of the rapid fire armament; that the officers be instructed in the use of sights, the system of fire direction, communications, use of telephones, signalling and telegraphy; that in addition to theoretical study on the part of the companies, a course of lectures by officers of the Artillery Corps of the Regular establishment be delivered at the armory at times most convenient for the assembling of officers of the militia artillery regiment

All the recommendations are approved, with the exception of the one providing that the militia artillery be organized similarly to that of the Regular army. This is held to be impracticable, Gen. Oliver quoting the chief of artillery as saying that: "Regimental and battalion organization must be preserved in order that the State may have an organized force available for general police purposes." Individual companies can be designated as reserve for certain batteries at named posts.

Gen. Oliver says in his letter that the other recommendations of the artillery board are considered practicable and can be carried out to an extent limited only by the time the militia organizations can give the time the militia organizations can give to heavy artillery instruction and the interests developed in mastering the details. The necessity for a heavy artillery regiment being drilled and instructed in the duties of infantry and heavy artillery, he says, more than doubles the work required of an infantry organization. It requires of the artilleryman much personal sacrifice of time and a great deal of work to fit himself for both duties.

Gen. Oliver says that the recommendation

Gen. Oliver says that the recommendation of the chief of artillery that the artillery militia organizations be assigned as a remilitia organizations be assigned as a reserve force at named posts is excellent, provided this assignment be made now, during time of peace, for instruction, it being understood that the same assignment will obtain in time of war as far as practicable. The militia will certainly be of more service at posts where they are familiar with the guns and the various zones of fire and know the officers and men composing the garrison, than they will be if assigned to posts at which they have never served. For efficient service, however, it will be necessary that the artillery post commanders have command of the post and all of the men, both regular and militia. This will prevent the assignment to any post in time of war of any militia officer that ranks the post commander. In time that ranks the post commander. In time of peace the Dick bill provides for the post commander retaining his command, no matter what the rank of the militia officer matter what the rank of the militia officer assigned for his instruction.

Gen. Oliver points out that the artillery posts for seacoast defence in New York harbor are Forts Hamilton, Wadsworth, Hancock, Schuyler, Totten and Slocum, and says that the first relief, consisting of Regular troops, is composed of 1,157 men at Fort Hamilton, 1,185 at Fort Wadsworth, 1,373 at Fort Hancock, 295 at Fort Schuyler, 675 at Fort Totten and 411 at Fort Slocum. According to the present plans, the second According to the present plans, the second relief, composed of organized militia, would consist of 772 men at Fort Hamilton, 789 at Fort Wadsworth, 1,004 at Fort Han-cock, 442 at Fort Tetten, 192 at Fort Schuyler 780 at Fort Wadsworth, 1,004 at Fort Hancock, 442 at Fort Tetten, 192 at Fort Schuyler and 325 at Fort Slocum.

Teports at the War Department show that when last inspected the Thirteenth Reziment Heavy Artillery of New York had 1,005 men, and it is believed that should necessity arise the regiment could, under the new plans, be used to advantage at Forts Hamilton, Wadsworth and Hancock. Consequently, it is recommended that the Thirteenth Regiment be assigned, four companies each, to the three forts named. According to War Department experts, the strength of the present plan lies in the fact that in time of peace the assignment of the militia is to be for purposes of drill and instruction, but in time of war as a part of the regular garrison under the command of the artillery post commanders.

Gen, Oliver and the officers of the General Staff believe that if the recommendations outlined are approved by the Governors of the various seaboard States to which they have been referred for information and suggestion the United States will have practically an impregnable line of defence. It is confidently expected that the Governors to whom the matter has have practically an impregnable line of defence. It is confidently expected that the Governors to whom the matter has been referred will take great interest in the subject, as will the officers and men of the various commands to be affected by the carrying out of the plans.

TWO CRANKS AFTER ROOSEVELT.

One Thought He Was Senator Hanna's ccessor—The Other Was a Negress.

WASHINGTON, Sept. •23.-The return of the President to the White House brought out two cranks to-day. Charles Barth, 63 years old, from Columbus, Ohio, stepped up to Mrs. Roosevelt as she was entering her carriage for a drive this morning and asked where the President was. Mrs. Roosevelt was somewhat startled, and while one of the ushers distracted Barth's attention told the coachman to drive on.

Barth was asked into the little guard house and under examination it was found he was laboring under the delusion that he was the successor of the late Senator Hanna. He had been elected by the Legislature last spring, he said, and his name was Charles Dick. He had called at the office of Gov. Herrick, he declared, and had been told that his credentials were at the White House in Washington, and had come here to inquire about them in person. He was sent quire about them in person. He was sent to police headquarters, where his sanity will be inquired into.

Shortly afterward Matilda Stewart, a negro woman, about 40 years old and weighing nearly 300 pounds, called at the White House offices and asked for the President. She wished the President's help in giving an excursion from Baton Rouge, La., for the benefit of a negro church there. It was decided that she was a religious fanatic. She was also turned over to the police for examination. over to the police for examination.

MAILS TO AND FROM THE YUKON. Arrangements Made With the Post Office

Department of Canada. WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Postmaster-General Payne announced to-day that arrangements have been perfected with the Post Office Department of Canada for the transportation of mails to and from the Yukon district, via White Horse, to become effective on Oct. 1. A tri-weekly service will be provided during the season of closed navigation. As heretofore, it will be necesto exclude from the winter mails for and from the whole district north of White Horse (including Alaskan mails via Daw-son) all classes of mail matter except letters, post cards and newspapers. As regards newspapers, the only classes which it has been found practicable to admit are those from offices of publication addressed to public libraries, to newspapers and to in-dividual subscribers, and transient news-papers. Only one copy of any one issue of a paper can be sent to an individual.

The Hon. Hugh McLaughlin, who was deposed from the leadership by Senator McCarren last October, will work enthusiastically for the ticket, and James Shevlin, Thomas R. Farrell, William A. Doyle, exsenator Michael Coffey and every other man who fought McCarren at the primaries will cooperate in the vigorous canvass projected. It is Senator McCarren's purpose to devote all the time and efforts he can spare from his duties as chairman of the State executive committee to campaign the State executive committee to campaign work in Kings county. He will take the stump and attend all the big rallies. The Clernont Avenue Rink has been secured for Saturday night, Oct. 1, and Congress-man John Sharp Williams will probably Cast at the Primartes. Lewis A. Abrams, recently defeated at the primaries in his contest with Isaac Hopper for the Tammany leadership of the Thirty-first Assembly district, applied to Justice McLean in the Supreme Court vesterday for an order directing the board of elections to show cause why a writ of mandamus should not issue commanding the board to produce for inspection all the ballots cast for Hopper in the First Election district of the Thirty-first.

Abrams charges that all the ballots cast for Hopper in the recent primary are illegal and void in that they did not comply the same of the law. Inwith the requirements of the law. Instead of being azure blue they were light blue and the weight of the paper fell short. The order, it is expected, will be issued to-day.

Abrams had papers served yesterday on four election inspectors of the First election district, recuiring them to appear before Justice Bischoff in Fart I. of the Supreme Court on Sept. 27, to show cause why the primary election in that election district should not be declared illegal and a new election ordered. It is his purpose to carry the fight into every election district if he succeeds in the First.

PRIMATE IN RAILROAD WRECK

ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY AND WIFE SHAKEN UP.

Special Train of Mr. Morgan, With Cierical Party as Guests. Hits Locomotive at East Brookfield, Mass.—No One Hurt -His Grace Goes to Washington.

EAST BROOKFIELD, Mass., Sept. 23.-J. Pierpont Morgan and his party, consisting of the Archbishop of Canterbury and his wife, Mrs. Davidson, and the Rev. Mr. Ellison, vicar of Windsor, the Rev. Mr. Holden, who have travelled with them in this country, had their lives endangered here this morning by the wrecking of their special train.

While going at a rate of 60 miles an hour the train struck a locomotive standing directly across the main track. Both locomotives were wrecked and the buffet car of the special was smashed, but the two last Pullmans, in which the party were, remained on the track. All on the train escaped unhurt, except the engineer and fireman, who were bruised.

The train left Bar Harbor on Thursday evening. The Archbishop had been the guest of Dr. William Lawrence, Bishop of Massachusetts, and he was on his way to visit Bishop Satterlee in Washington, D. C. Mr. Morgan had joined the party yesterday after a business trip to Boston. Conductor George Fox of the special says that the accident was due to fog and slippery rails, although he acknowledges that a danger signal was set against the special. Mr. Morgan and the Archbishop's wife were the least concerned over the accident, and after a delay of three hours Mrs. Davidson continued the journey by riding in the cab of the observation engine that drew the two undamaged cars to Springfield.

ALBANY, Sept. 23 .- The special train conveying the Archbishop of Canterbury from Bar Harbor arrived this afternoon four hours late. The party was met at the station by the Right Rev. William had been ill for four weeks. For the past Croswell Doane, Episcopal Bishop of Albany, and Mrs. Doane, and William Bayard Van Rensselaer, and after spending a little over an hour here inspecting the Episcopal Cathedral and allied institutions, left for

The Archbishop of Canterbury's special train arrived at Weehawken over the West Shore Railroad at 7:35 o'clock last night. It was sent over a branch line to the Pennsylvania station at Jersey City. It left at 8:02 o'clock for Washington. J. P. Morgan's private car, the "Colonia," and two other private cars made up the train. While waiting in the station Mr. Morgan

MARE AND MULE WENT STEALING. Made a Bread and Milk Breakfast at Expense of Jersey City Grocers.

Storekeepers in the Horseshoe section of Jersey City have been stirred up for several days over the thefts of bread, rolls and milk from in front of their places of business in the early morning hours. They told the police that the robbers were in the habit of mussing up what they couldn't carry away.

Capt. Jonh F. Kelly put some of his best men on the job. They sallied out in the early dawn, but saw no raids made on bread boxes or milk cans. The grocers continued to complain and the police were ordered to get a move on.

Policeman James McGovern, whose post is located in the belt where most of the raids had occurred, saw a gray mare and a mule wander slowly along Seventeenth street early yesterday morning. The mare whinnied, shook her tail and looked around knowingly at the mule. Then she started off on a trot and her companion fell in be-hind. McGovern got a firm grip on his

The mare led the way to a grocery store in Grove street and stopped. She snifted around the grocer's bread box for a moment and then lifted up the cover with her nose. The owner of the animals—a man of the name of Hogan—was notified and he locked the offenders in their stable.

SHERCLIFFE OUT OF PRISON. lowa's Noted Convict Released-Says He' Going to Have Revenge.

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 23 .- Frank Shercliffe, for twelve years a convict in the Fort Madison Penitentiary, walked out a free man vesterday. Immediately he met Attorney Thomas, representing the Civic Federation of Omaha, and L. E. Fay of Clinton, whom he robbed fifteen years ago of $10,000 worth of diamonds.

Shercliffe says he intends to "even up" with Tom Dennison, the Omaha policy with fom Dennison, the Orana policy king, who he says conceived the crime which landed him in jail. Shercliffe's case became well known because of his parole by Leslie M. Shaw when Shaw was Governor. Letters and old documents dug up recently tended to show that Dennison had caused great influence to be exerted to secure the parole.

son had caused great inhuence to be exerted to secure the parole.

Once out Dennison and Shercliffe quarrelled and the parole was revoked. Shercliffe says now that Dennison had him sent to jail and he swears to "get even."

ADMITS MANNINO KIDNAPPING.

Boy Who Lured Tony Away From Home Pleads Guilty-Sentence Deferred. Antonio Cucozza, 16 years old, who lured young Tony Mannino away from his home in Amity street, and was arrested several days before Tony's release by the so-called "Black Hand" gang, was arraigned yester-day before Judge Aspinall in the County Court and pleaded guilty to a charge of kidnapping.

"So this is the fellow," said Judge Aspinall, looking at the insignificant looking prisoner, "who made all the trouble in the Mannino case? Why, he does not look as if he had sense enough to carry a water pail. So this ends the great Black Hand case. How did you conceive this kidnapping?"

"A man told me," replied Antonio, "to take Tony to New York."

CORN CROP DAMAGED, Frosts Cause a Total Loss in Some Places

Up the State. UTICA, Sept. 23.—Reports from farmers and from the canners hereabouts indicate that the frosts of the past two nights have worked great damage to the corn crop, especially in the districts where the land is especially in the districts where the land is low. The crop in the fields surrounding Kirkland is most affected. It is said that in many of the fields there the corn will be a total loss. The corn industry at Fonda is the least affected. The bulk of the corn in this part of the State is already in cans. Last year at this time between 5,000 and 6,000 cases had been canned. Thus far this season over 25,000 cases have been canned.

Oblinary Notes

Harrison Allen, second deputy auditor of the Post Office Department and one of the famous 306 members of the Republican convention who steadfastly held out for the nomination of Gen. Grant for a third term, died suddenly at his home in Washington some time Thursday night, in the sixty-ninth year of his age. He was at his office Thursday apparently in good health, but was found dead in bed early the next morning, supposedly from heart failure. He was born in Russellburg, Warren county, Pa., was graduated from Jamestown, N. Y., Academy, and studied and practised law. At the beginning of the civil war he enlisted in the Tenth Pennsylvania Infantry and commanded a company until he organized the 151st Pennsylvania Infantry, when he was elected its colonel. He served until the end of the war, being brevetted Brigadier-General for gallantry in action. He resumed the practice of law, served two terms in each branch of the State Legislature and two as auditor general of the State, and afterward was United States Marshal for Dakota. He was appointed to the auditorship of the Post Office Department by President McKinley.

Archer Brown, of the firm of Rogers, Brown & Co., the Cincinnati iron merchants, with offices in this city at 71 Broadway, died suddenly of heart disease yesterday at his residence, 56 Munn avenue, East Orange, N. J. Mr. Brown was born in Otsego, N. Y., fifty-two years ago and although he was a college graduate he had worked since he was 12 years of age. His parents lived in Flint, Mich., when he was a boy and he attended school there, subsequently entering the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, from which he was graduated. He went into newspaper work in Cincinnati and kept at it for eight years. Then he became interested in the iron industry and formed the firm of Rogers, Brown & Co. in 1882. In East Orange he was one of the organizers of the Citizens' Union and had been its president from its inception two years ago. He was also a member of the Republican Club nomination of Gen. Grant for a third term, died suddenly at his home in Washington
